ADA, OKLAHOMA, TUESDAY EVENING, MAY 17, 1910

NUMBER 36

GOVERNOR HASKELL ADA NEXT FRIDAY

Governor Haskell will address the people of Pontotoc county at Ada next Friday, May the 20th at the hour of 2 p. m. His coming is by the direction of the State Executive committee, and his address and entertainment while here will be under the auspices of the Pontotoc county Democratic organization.

Notwithstanding the shortness of the time of notice when he shall be in Ada, Democratic organization of Pontotoc county proposes to be equal to the occasion and produce in Ada on Friday an attendance of several thousand people outside of the seven thousand residents of the city, Captain Fisher, chairman of the County Democratic Campaign committee, has already become active since 2 o'clock since it became definitely known that the Governor would be here Friday and at present there is being circulated by precinct committeemen among the people of the several cities in the county notifying them of the proposed presence of the Governor in Ada on next Friday.

The Governor will arrive on the 11:10 Katy train and depart on the 5:04 Frisco train.

The people of Ada will make the Governor's appearance a gala occasion.

WIFE STILL CLINGS TO HOPE

Not Much Sympathy from the Court. "Treat that Prisoner the Same as any Other"

Kansas City, Mo., May 16.—Dr. Bennett Clark Hyde, charged with the murder of Col. Thomas H. Swope, was found guilty of murder in the first degree and his punishment assessed at life imprisonment by the jury which brought in a verdict here this morning. It is likely the defense will ask a new trial and take the case to the highest court in an effort to save the physician.

Scene in Courtroom

"Oh, Clark," cried Mrs. Hyde, when the verdict was read by Judge Lathshaw. She threw her arms about his neck and wept silently. Then she patted her husband on the cheek. Dr. Hyde sat motionless. He looked firmly at Judge Lathshaw while the verdict was being read. As the words "imprisonment in the State penitentiary during his natural life" was pronounced he gazed steadily at the floor. "Don't worry, dearie," he said to his wife as she clasped him in her arms. Mrs. Hopkins and Miss Hyde, sisters of the physician, tried to comfort Mrs. Hyde.

"We shall hope for the best," they said. "We don't understand this verdict. Clark is innocent."

"I haven't lost hope," declared Hyde.

Within ten minutes after the verdict had been returned the doctor was on his way to his cell. Mrs. Hyde remained in the courtroom for some time. She was extremely weak.

To Ask New Trial.

The physician will be sentenced in open court by Judge Lathshaw either Thursday or Friday. The law allows the defense four days in which to file a motion for a new trial, and Dr. Hyde's counsel announce that a new trial will be requested.

"Treat that prisoner the same as any other," Judge Lathshaw said to County Marshal Joel Mayes, "give him few privileges and no luxuries."

Statement by Juror.

his own testimony on the witness stand," says W. C. Crone, a juror.

Crone is in reality the man who decided the physician's fate. Until Saturday night Crone and S. R. Johnson, a farmer from Sibley, Mo., held out for acquittal against the rest of the jury. Remembering Dr. Hyde's demeanor on the stand, Mr. Crone finally decided the accused man was guilty and voted for conviction. He then convinced Mr. Johnson, making the verdict unanimous.

"Dr. Hyde was his own worst enemy in the trial," said Mr. Crone tonight. "His own testimony convicted him."

"When Dr. Hyde said he had bought cyanide for ten years and yet could not remember where he bought it he damned himself as a witness. If he had not testified as he did I think he would not be in the position he is

WILL CRUSADE INTO WASHINGTON

FIFTY NATIONS REPRESENTED

Prominent Men and Women From all Parts of the World Will Participate.

Philadelphia, May 17.—"The most cosmopolitan gathering which ever met on this continent," is the way the World's Sunday School convention, which opens in Washington next Thursday, is described at the headquarters of the World's Sunday School Association in this city.

Dr. George W. Bailey, the executive head of the organization, announces that more than fifty nations and 26,000,000 Sunday school pupils will be represented in the 8,000 delegates at the capitol May 19-24.

A demonstration of adult Bible classes will be made at Washington next Friday, when some 10,000 men, from all over the continent, will parade down Pennsylvania avenue. Another spectacular feature of the convention will be living tableaux in Convention hall and the closing night when a "congress of nations" will be represented by Washington children,

GOOD TAILORING

Is what gives all clothes style and permanency of shape; it is the vital feature of clothes making and without it any garment will soon lose its shape.

BAILEY SUPPORTS O. B. COLQUITT

GIVES HIS REASON FOR FAVORING
GOVERNORSHIP

"United States Senate, Washington, D. C., May 6, 1910.—Mr. S. L. Russell, Plainview, Texas: My Dear Sir
—I am in receipt of your letter in which you ask me the direct question as to whether, in view of recent developments in the contest for the Democratic nomination for Governor of Texas and the conflicting claims of some of my friends concerning my real feeling toward two of the candidates engaged in that contest; I shall take any part, active or otherwise, in behalf of Judge Poindexter or Mr. Colquitt, and if so which of the two it will be.

"As one of my constituents, you have the right to ask me this question and you are likewise entitled to have a frank answer from me. While I have, owing to pressing duties in the Senate, thus far refrained from entering into that contest, I have at this time no hesitancy in answering your question. No living man can truthfully assert that I have ever failed to announce my position upon any matter affecting the welfare of the people of Texas.

"It is doubtful if I shall feel called upon to take any active part in the campaign now in progress. The factors well known that I have heretofore declared my personal friendship for Judge Poindexter, and I would now at all times prefer to aid his election, but should the progress of the campaign develop such conditions as would endanger the election of Judge Poindexter to such an extent as to render his defeat morally certain, I would feel it my duty and the duty of my friends in Texas to give undivided support to Mr. Colquitt. Of course, my attitude toward the other candidates for the nomination it too well known to the citizens of Texas to make a statement with respect to them in the least necessary.

"Candor compels me, however, to say that while gratitude and personal considerations strongly incline me to support Poindexter, Mr.
Colquitt's platform in-so far as it relates to the leading issue involved in the contest, more nearly coincides with my view than does that of Judge Poindexter. I am yours very truly,

"J. W. BAILEY."

Supreme Court Affirms Judgement in Lawyer Fees Case.

Washington, May 16.—The supreme court of the United States today affirmed a judgment of the court of appeals of the District of Columbia, requiring United States Senator R. L.
Owen, of Oklahoma, to pay William
W. Dudley and Louis T. Mitchener, $10,000 as lawyer's fees. The controversy grew out of a contract whereby Dudley and Mitchener were to assist Owen in a claim against the government.

"One of the Strongest Sources of Support Will Come From Traveling Men."

Chillicothe, Mo., May 17.—The opening gun in the campaign for statewide prohibition was fired in Chillicothe Sunday. Judge William H.
Wallace of Kansas City, president of the Constitutional Amendment Association, made two addresses. This morning he spoke at the Presbyterian church, and in the afternoon in the Elm Street Methodist church.

Judge Wallace says he is certain the amendment will carry, and is surprised at the lack of opposition.

"One of the strongest sources of support will come from the traveling men of the state," said the judge.
"The grounds on which these drummers will vote for prohibition is that it increases business. The less spent for liquor the more spent for goods which the commercial men sell."

Judge Wallace stated that it was his candid opinion Kansas City would join the dry column.

RAILROAD BILL HELPED SOME BY PROGRESSIVE REPUBLI- CANS AND DEMOCRATS

CANNON MACHINE GOT CLOGGED
THE HOUSE.

But Senate, Predominating Body, Will Re-insert Nefarious Clauses—Country Not Yet Saved
by a Sight.

(By Tavenner.)

Special Washington Correspondent of this newspaper.

Washington, May 17.—Representative government almost—but not quite —prevails in the National house of representatives.

Although still objectionable as passed by the house, the railroad regulation bill was discussed, amended and improved. And it was all done in the open.

The entire membership of the house, for a change, was permitted to vote on the question of rejecting undesirable sections. Improvement of the bill by amendment, was also allowed.

Had the Cannon machine been working smoothly, a few men would have done the legislating instead of the entire membership of the house.

Under the regular Cannon system of gang rule, the railroad bill would have been reported from committee under a rule prohibiting the membership of the house from voting for or against amendment. Bad features of the bill could not have been eliminated.

The entire measure, jokers and all,
would have been forced down the throat of the house just as dictated by the railroad companies, and just as submitted by "Uncle Joe's" Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce. This committee is packed with men who have been aided in coming to congress by the railroads.

The improvement of the railroad bill in the house through a coalition of the Democrats and Progressives is a cause for rejoicing. But it does not mean that the people have really wrested control of the national law-making machinery from the tariff trusts, Wall street and other forms of special privilege which dominate the Republican party thru either the control of local politics or making large campaign contributions.

The house is only the lower branch of congress. The railroad bill will not become a law as passed by the house. The senate is the dominating half of congress, and it is still controlled absolutely by the greedy corporate interests.

The senate will pass a bill containing some of the very features stricken from the measure in the house. Both the senate and house bills will then be sent to a conference committee composed of either three or five members of each branch of congress.

As the majority of conferees will be "regular" Republicans, specially selected by Aldrich and Cannon, it goes without saying that much of the good work accomplished by the house Democrats and Progressives will be reversed. It was so with the tariff bill.

The finale of the railroad bill promises to be the Payne-Aldrich fiasco all over again. Representative government will have given special privilege a tight race, but in the finish

Not the Least Peculiar Among Them
Is That Known as Doing
"Genna."

Among the inhabitants of Assam there are curious customs described by a recent traveler: "The local nobleman who had consented to help the cook in return for his food plus pay had complained in the morning of a stomach ache, the result, probably, of a too liberal diet at my expense. I had dosed him with strong ginger, but evening found him still in pain, and he refused to take more. He expected one dose to effect a magic cure, and if it did not he considered the medicine was not worth taking a second time. An evil spirit had got hold of him, he confided to me, and the only sure remedy was to propitiate it by sacrificing a white fowl. To do so with full ceremonial three whole days apart from the world were necessary, and therefore he had to tender his resignation.

"He came to see me a few weeks ago in Sadiya, and was much hurt at my mildly suggesting that 'the evil one' had been a surfeit of pork. The custom of shutting one's self off from contact with one's fellows is common all along this frontier, on such occasions as a birth, a death, sickness or some other unusual occurrence. It is called doing 'genna,' and takes place whenever the slightest ground can be found for it.

"There is a story of a certain well-known frontier officer being refused admittance to a house where usually he was an honored guest. On asking the reason, he was told that the household was doing 'genna,' as the family's female dog had just produced pups."

Bachelor Could Not Save Rug and
Be in Time for the Theater—Still Has the Rug.

A theater party waited half an hour the other evening for one belated individual, who arrived breathless and profusely apologetic. Apologies entailed explanations, and explanations revealed some of the exigencies, as well the humor, of bachelor makeshifts.

In this case the gentleman who was tardy found it imperative to economize space. Necessity made his opera hat share a closet shelf with the Tarragon vinegar and the olive oil used at occasional evening spreads.
One could multiply proverbs in telling the tale, for in his haste to be on time the vinegar and the oil came down unexpectedly with the opera hat, and deposited their contents upon his latest acquisition, the Shervan rug he had just treated himself to.

It was ruin the rug or be late to the party, so, up came the rug, on went the water in the bathtub, and to scrubbing fell he. The rug was saved, and the theater party enjoyed the laugh they had over the tale.

By HAROLD CARTER

It was during the second term in the penitentiary that the great plan first came into Jim Byers' head. At first it was only a thought that stole upon him during the night, while he tossed uneasily upon his plain bed;
then a desire; suddenly a mighty and overwhelming passion which must be fulfilled.

When he was freed prison societies came to him and offered him help.
But he refused and started on his tramp eastward with the little money that he had earned. First he must fulfill his determination.

It was 150 miles up state to the old home where his brother—the rich man—still lived. Walter had stayed at home and prospered, and was always spoken of as a prospective millionaire, while he, the outcast, the prodigal, the jailbird, the broken man, tramped eastward along the railroad line for that first reunion after 15 years of absence and silence.

It was his absolute determination to meet his brother face to face and kill him, kill him as calmly and remorselessly as he himself had once killed cattle in the slaughter yards, because he had prospered while he was starving. What would come afterward he did not think or care.

For five nights and days he tramped along the railroad line, exulting at each remembered landmark for the
A dusty tramp, disheveled, torn, a few coins clanking in his pockets as he tripped from tie to tie, the knife hidden in his sleeve which was to absolve his debt of hatred. In this wise he reached the little village.

He stood still, rubbing his eyes in wonder. This his home site? Why, here was a factory town, with smoke belching from the tops of 20 tall chimneys.

Did anybody remember the old Byers homestead?

Yes, the saloonkeeper remembered
it. But he did not remember Jim in his tramp's clothes, with prison pal-lor upon his face. It had been sold and pulled down these ten years or more. Walter Byers? Why, that was the Byers' home, that red brick building on the hill yonder. He might get a job there possibly. Mr. Byers was always in need of hands in his factory.

Slowly Jim turned his face toward his brother's house and toiled up the hill painfully. No matter, his work would soon be over. But when he reached the gate of the garden he stood still, staring into the face of a little girl who sat there, shading her eyes as she gazed upward.

"Is Mr. Byers at home?" and he felt the steel beat a tattoo against the bare flesh of his arm.

"Father's not home yet," said the girl. "There's nobody home but me."
"So you're Walter Byers' daughter, are you? Have you any brothers and sisters?"

"No, there's only me. You're not my Uncle Jim, are you?"

She looked into his face frankly and anxiously.
"No, I know you're not. Because you're so poor and Uncle Jim's rich.
He's coming home some day to take us by surprise. Only you see, we're all so anxious for him to come, because father tried so hard for years to find him, and we know he's making his fortune out in the west somewhere and he'll come back again."

He had become a myth, the rich uncle who was to return some day to his devoted family! Jim heard incidents of his boyhood, exploits now greatly magnified, from his little niece's lips. And they were proud of him!

For the first time since he had left the penitentiary he laughed, then stopped and drew his sleeve across his eyes. He turned away.

"Won't you wait for father? He won't be long. Who shall I tell him called to see him?"

Jim straightened himself.

"Tell him a broken man who's gone out to fight the world again; to lift up his head and look it in the eye squarely. A man who's taken his beating and learned his lesson."

He turned and plunged down the steep hill westward in the direction of the railroad line.

A farm in Central New York, bought a few years ago for $15 an acre, produced two years later a crop of peas worth more than $50 an acre.
This incident, considered in conjunction with the fact that many farms can be bought for even less than the value of the buildings standing on the land, is used in a bulletin by Commissioner Pearson of the state agricultural department to indicate the possibilities of agriculture in New York.

This publication also gives the value of crops in this state for a period of 40 years, showing that New York is the fourth state in agricultural importance. A significant feature of the statistics is that while in 1875 New York raised 35,000,000 bushels of potatoes, valued at $10,985,179, last year it produced 34,850,000 bushels, valued at $26,138,000. Similarly increased value is shown in other crops, while the volume is about the same.

What's the Use!

Isabel—I'll never have another photograph taken.

Dorothy—Why not, dear?

Isabel—O, if it looks like me I don't like it, and if it flatters me my friends don't like it.—Stray Stories.

RARE TALENT APPEARS TONIGHT

The Ada public should accept the verdict of the two hundred and fifty people who attended "The Lady of the Decoration" last night, and should crowd the Normal Auditorium tonight. Program begins at 8:30 sharp. Admission, 25, 35 and 50 cents.

Miss Leona Steed Entertains.

Last Saturday evening at her beautiful home on Seventeenth street, Miss Leona Steed entertained about forty of her young friends with a farewell party given in honor of Miss Lucile Hale of Corpus Christi, who had been visiting her for some two weeks past. The parlors were tastefully decorated with pink and white flowers and the dining room with white and red.

An apron humming, as well as the popular games of the day, furnished delightful amusement for the guests. The girls furnished the aprons and the boys did the domestic art, (?) in other words put the hems on. Vindim Curry won first prize.

Refreshments of cream and cake were served. When the parting hour came, though they regretted having to bid Miss Lucile good-bye, everybody expressed by word and manner that they had spent a most enjoyable evening.

Court House News

The shot man, Mr. Prentiss, at the jail, is reported to be improving and the indications are now that he will recover.

Mr. Renfrow went out this morning with six of the prisoners to work on public roads. He had not been gone long until he reported back that one big black coon, Homer Norris, had vamoosed. The dogs were put on track but to no avail. Officers have gone in pursuit of him.

Sheriff James K. King of Holdenville in an altercation with assistant Police Gillard, shot and killed Mr. Gillard.

We understand that the sheriff is in jail and not allowed bond.

The killing grew out of an old feud. Last night a phone message came to the Sheriff that a store had been burglarized at Vanoss, and the owner of the store thought that they had a good clue as to who did the work.

Among the distinguished visitors in our city today are: H. D. Richardson, Everett Deasons, Oscar Collins and Ed Fussell, all of Roff.

RECORD BREAKING RAIN AND ELECTRICAL DISPLAY AT AMARILLO.

Amarillo, Tex., May 17.—Accompanied by a lurid electrical display and thunder such as is seldom seen or heard in this portion of the state, Amarillo was visited by a record breaking rain yesterday at an early hour, which flooded the streets, and sheets of water now remain upon some of the main thoroughfares. The rain lasted about half an hour and registered approximately one inch, which, added to the recent precipitations, runs the fall up to more than three inches within fifteen days. The storm last night was accompanied by heavy wind and an appreciable showing of hail. Fortunately no damage to wheat or fruit resulted.

Those who braved the inclemency of the weather last night to hear Miss Dunaway present "The Lady of the Decoration" were well paid for their venture. In the delineation of character, Miss Dunaway has few superiors, and in the impersonation of "The Lady of the Decoration" she reveals something better than a mere mastery of art on her part, a keen insight into, and a deep sympathy with the frailties of human nature.

AN OPPORTUNITY PASSED IF MISS ATTENDING

Miss Dunaway, who leads in the production of "The Lady of the Decoration" comes to Ada in other persunance than that of her profession. Larger cities usually claim her talent. Why not take advantage to hear her at the popular prices of 25, 35 and 50 cents tonight. Program begins at 8:30 p. m.

THE COUNTY CENTRAL DEMOCRATIC COMMITTEE:

You are notified that the Democratic Organization of Pontotoc County is informed by Hon. Fred Branson, chairman of the State Executive Committee, that Governor Haskell will address the people of Pontotoc county at Ada, on next Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock p. m. Therefore you are requested to so advertise the fact to the people of your respective precincts and urge them to be present in Ada in honor and for the benefits of such occasion.

OTIS B. WEAVER, State Committeeman.

W. H. FISHER, Chair. Co. Democratic Committee

THE LADY OF THE DECORATION

Miss Dunaway's presentation of the "Lady of the Decoration" last night at the High School Auditorium, proved to be one of the most entertaining Lyceum attractions that ever appeared in Ada. Miss Dunaway has been urged to repeat the evening and will do so, tonight, at the demand of last night's audience. She is a genuine artist, and her reading was a treat from start to finish, and you cannot afford to miss the opportunity of hearing her. This reading was given in ten different costumes, to a musical accompaniment. Miss Vann, the accompanist, who is a graduate of National Conservatory of Music, in New York, added much to the success of the evening.

Entertainment will begin tonight promptly at 8:30 o'clock.

Return date. No one disappointed. May she come again.—Sulphur Spring News.

Among the readers at chautauqua this season was Miss Hettie Dunaway. Even after her recalls, the audience would not then release her.—New York Journal.

Her readings have a characteristic Western breeze that never fails to please. She received round after round of applause.—Boston Post.

The popular Japanese tale was exceedingly clever and interesting. She has an excellent sense of humor and an equal capacity for expressing the more tender emotions.—Boston Transcript.

INTRODUCTION

Miss Hettie J. Dunaway, the talented Arkansas Reader has been repeatedly and enthusiastically received in almost every state in the South. Why is she so popular? Because she is so different to the Elocutionist. She is so perfectly natural that you forget her and think only of the character she portrays. She enjoys her work and works to please her audience. She has an unerring judgement in deciding what the people like. Then she has the taste to choose the best that will please, while her programs always stimulate to better living. Hers is the Gospel of good cheer. Her policy to bring to the platform only the choicest newest and best readings; her joy is in pleasing the people.

ARTERY SUCCESSFULLY STITCHED

Patient Returns to Work Within Three Days After Operation.

Frankfort, May 17.—Professor Sonnenburg, an eminent surgeon, reports a remarkable operation in which he succeeded in stitching together the main artery of a mechanic's thigh after it had been practically torn in two by a splinter of steel.

Within three days blood was coursing through the artery in normal fashion, and the artisan was returned to his work with a fully healed

OFFICERS MAKE ANOTHER HAUL

Last night about midnight, Bess Rich and one Meeks were arrested on the charge of transporting whiskey from one part of the state to another—here in Ada.

It appears that the parties above mentioned were in a tent on tenth street and the officers had been quietly watching the place for several days; so on last night Sheriff Smith and Jim Adair placed themselves in hiding near the tent to await developments. When the time was ripe for action, the officers acted, and succeeded in capturing 65 pints of whiskey and a good big supply of "belly wash," as one of the boys denominated it. Meeks put up a cash security for his appearance in court and Rich was confined in the jail.

A CORRECTION.

Referring to the leading article in this press yesterday, (Monday) being an undertaking to relate the facts regarding the contention between the city of Ada and the McKanna Power and Development Company over the control of the Byrd's Mill water site, it was stated in connection with the reference to the courts proceedings at Coalgate that it was at the instance of the McKanna Power and Development Company that the hearing was continued over until Monday, at Ada, when the court would hear new argument. Such reference appears to have been incorrect, for the city attorney, along with Messrs. Buck Wall and John Smith, stated that the hearing before the court was extended over until Monday, when new argument could be heard, by agreement of both parties concerned, the city as well as the McKanna Power and Development Co.

W. A. WINGO PASSES AWAY

After being confined to his bed for some two or three months, W. A. Wingo paid the debt we all must pay at 3:30 this morning. He is survived by a wife and seven children, five of the children living here. His daughter, Mrs. Hamilton, of Merritt, Texas, and his son, W. H. Wingo, of Tulsa, were with their father at the time of his death. The funeral will be conducted by Rev. Stubblefield at the Wingo home at ten o'clock Wednesday morning.

W. A. Wingo was born at Spartanburg, N. C., in 1814, moved to Ladonia, Texas in 1859, and resided there until eighteen months ago, when he came to Ada. From Texas he enlisted with the 9th Texas Cavalry under Col. Ross and served the full four years in the Confederate service. He has been a consistent member of the Baptist church since the age of fourteen. Surely a good man is taken from our midst.

Mrs. W. D. Faust returned from Hickory this morning.

WEST BEGINS FIRE ON BOOZE

ASKS REVOCATION TO TITLES PATENT. HITS THE EX-PRESS COMPANIES

Guthrie, Okla., May 16.—The suits filed in the supreme court of the United States today by Attorney General West seek first, the cancel of the title patents of the Santa Fe to portions of its line in Indian Territory; the second to permanently enjoin the shipment of liquors into Oklahoma to holders of internal revenue licenses.

The second case, relative to shipments of liquor into Oklahoma, states that because of various Indian treaties, chiefly between the United States and components of the Five Civilized Tribes, and the enabling act, whiskey was prohibited in the Indian Territory side of the state, and charge all the inter-state railroads of Oklahoma and express companies with openly and constantly violating the laws and treaties against introduction of intoxicants.

The attorney general then lists something over a thousand internal revenue license holders in the state of Oklahoma, nearly 150 such licenses; Shawnee, 50. Sapulpa, 21; McAlester, 15; Muskogee, 34; Chickasha, 15; Coalgate, 19; Bartlesville, 19; Ardmore, 8; Lawton, one only; Eufaula, 13; Enid, 8; Kiefer, Krebs and Lehigh, 8 to 19 each; Miami, 10; Tulsa, 42, and Wilburton, Wagoner and Vinitia, well represented. But few small towns that do not appear with from 1 to 6 licenses. To this original list, the attorney general adds a supplemental list, giving Ardmore 18 more; Anadarko 10 more; Bartlesville 10 more; Guthrie 20 more; Holdenville and Kiefer with a healthy increase of 8 each; Lawton adds 5; Muskogee has 16 in the supplemental list; Mounds, 12. Nowata 14; Oklahoma City, 88, many of which are renewals and changes; Shawnee and Sapulpa, 16 new ones each; Tulsa adds 27.

Of all these, the attorney general says: "And further, the state of Oklahoma complains and says that various persons in said state have made payment of the special tax required of liquor dealers under the laws of the United States, which persons together with their names and addresses of each of the 1,000 odd persons.

The attorney general then shows that the original Billups bill made the possession of such a federal license prima facie a bad intent and that the importation of intoxicants to such licensees is a public nuisance, and that the railroad and express companies in accepting shipments to such persons are under protection of the interstate commerce, assisted and aggravating a general violation of the prohibitory laws of Oklahoma.

It is reported here that on Monday night a burglar entered a house at Francis and in his escape took a pair of pants a coat a watch and an April Frisco railroad check No 19 447 for $55.90 payable to O B Coons. We have not ascertained whose place was robbed. Neither the thief nor any of his booty has been heard of since the burglary was committed.

WIFE STILL CLINGS TO HOPE

Not Much Sympathy from the Court. "Treat that Prisoner the Same as any Other"

Kansas City Mo May 16—Dr Bennett Clark Hyde, charged with the murder of Col Thomas H Swope, was found guilty of murder in the first degree and his punishment assessed at life imprisonment by the jury which brought in a verdict here this morning. It is likely the defense will ask a new trial and take the case to the highest court in an effort to save the physician.

Scene in Courtroom

Oh Clark cried Mrs Hyde when the verdict was read by Judge Lathshaw. She threw her arms about his neck and wept silently. Then she patted her husband on the cheek. Dr Hyde sat motionless. He looked firmly at Judge Lathshaw while the verdict was being read. As the words imprisonment in the State penitentiary during his natural life was pronounced he gazed steadily at the floor. Don't worry dearie, he said to his wife as she clasped him in her arms. Mrs Hopkins and Miss Hyde sisters of the physician tried to comfort Mrs Hyde.

We shall hope for the best they said. We don't understand this verdict. Clark is innocent.

I haven't lost hope declared Hyde.

Within ten minutes after the verdict had been returned the doctor was on his way to his cell. Mrs Hyde remained in the courtroom for some time. She was extremely weak.

To Ask New Trial.

The physician will be sentenced in open court by Judge Lathshaw either Thursday or Friday. The law allows the defense four days in which to file a motion for a new trial, and Dr Hyde's counsel announce that a new trial will be requested.

Treat that prisoner the same as any other," Judge Lathshaw said to County Marshal Joel Mayes, give him few privileges and no luxuries.

Statement by Juror.

Prominent Men and Women From all Parts of the World Will Participate.

Philadelphia, May 17—The most cosmopolitan gathering which ever met on this continent is the way the World's Sunday School convention, which opens in Washington next Thursday, is described at the headquarters of the World's Sunday School Association in this city.

Dr George W Bailey, the executive head of the organization, announces that more than fifty nations and 26,000,000 Sunday school pupils will be represented in the 8,000 delegates at the capitol May 19-24.

A demonstration of adult Bible classes will be made at Washington next Friday, when some 10,000 men from all over the continent, will parade down Pennsylvania avenue. Another spectacular feature of the convention will be living tableaux in Convention hall and the closing night when a "congress of nations" will be represented by Washington children.

The regulation sessions of the convention will number 178, with 300 speakers, including President Taft, Ambassador Bryce, John Wanamaker, Dr J Wilbur Chapman, Charles M Alexander and many bishops and other distinguished men and women from America and abroad.

The wife of Vice President Sherman will preside over one of the mass meetings of women. The Rev F B Meyer of London, president of the World's Sunday School Association, will preside.

The British delegates, to the number of nearly 200, arrive in Philadelphia tomorrow.

Next Sunday May 22, will be observed by church throughout the world as World's Sunday School day.

GOVERNORSHIP

D. C., May 6, 1910.—Mr. S. L. Russell, Plainview, Texas: My Dear Sir
—I am in receipt of your letter in
as to whether, in view of recent developments in the contest for the Democratic nomination for Governor
of Texas and the conflicting claims
of some of my friends concerning
my real feeling toward two of the candidates engaged in that contest;
I shall take any part, active or otherwise, in behalf of Judge Polindexter or Mr. Colquitt, and if so which of the two it will be.

"As one of my constituents, you
have the right to ask me this question and you are likewise entitled to have a frank answer from me. While
the Senate, thus far refrained from entering into that contest, I have at
your question. No living man can truthfully assert that I have ever
failed to announce my position upon
any matter affecting the welfare of the people of Texas.

"It is doubtful if I shall feel called upon to take any active part in the campaign now in progress. The fact is well known that I have heretofore declared my personal friendship for Judge Polindexter, and I would now at all times prefer to aid his
election, but should the progress of
the campaign develop such conditions as would endanger the election of Judge Polindexter to such an extent as to render his defeat morally
give undivided support to Mr. Colquitt. Of course, my attitude toward the other candidates for the nomination it too well known to the citizens of Texas to make a statement with respect to them in the least necessary.

"Candor compels me, however, to
say that while gratitude and personal considerations strongly incline me to support Polindexter, my support Judge Polindexter, Mr. Colquitt's platform in so far as it re-
the contest, more nearly coincides
with my view than does that of Judge Polindexter. I am yours very truly,

"J. W. BAILEY."

ing gun in the campaign for state-
Sunday. Judge William H.
Wallace of Kansas City, president of ciation, made two addresses. This morning he spoke at the Presbyterian church, and in the afternoon in the Elm Street Methodist church.

Judge Wallace says he is certain
the amendment will carry, and is
surprised at the lack of opposition.

"One of the strongest sources of support will come from the travelling men of the state," said the judge.
"The grounds on which these drummers will vote for prohibition is that it increases business. The less spent
which the commercial men sell."

his candid opinion Kansas City would
join the dry column.

THE HOUSE.

But Senate, Predominating Body, Will Re-insert Nefarious Clauses—Country Not Yet Saved
by a Slight.

Special Washington Correspondent of
this newspaper.
Washington, May 17.—Representative government almost—but not quite
—prevails in the National house of representatives.

Although still objectionable as
regulation bill was discussed, amend-
done in the open.

The entire membership of the
house, for a change, was permitted
to vote on the question of rejecting
undesirable sections. Improvement of the bill by amendment, was also allowed.

have done the legislating instead of the entire membership of the house.

of gang rule, the railroad bill would have been reported from committee
under a rule prohibiting the membership of the house from voting for
or against amendment. Bad features of the bill could not have been eliminated.

The entire measure, jokers and all,
would have been forced down the
by the railroad companies, and just as submitted by "Uncle Joe's" Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce. This committee is packed with men who have been aided in coming to congress by the railroads.

The improvement of the railroad
bill in the house through a coalition
of the Democrats and Progressives
is a cause for rejoicing. But it does not mean that the people have really wrested control of the national law-making machinery from the tariff trusts, Wall street and other forms of special privilege which dominate the Republican party thru
either the control of local politics
or making large campaign contributions.

The house is only the lower branch
of congress. The railroad bill will
not become a law as passed by the house. The senate is the dominat-
controlled absolutely by the greedy corporate interests.

The senate will pass a bill con-
stricken from the measure in the house. Both the senate and house
bills will then be sent to a conference committee composed of either
of congress.

As the majority of conferees will be "regular" Republicans, specially selected by Aldrich and Cannon, it
good work accomplished by the house Democrats and Progressives will be reversed. It was so with the tariff bill.

The finale of the railroad bill promises to be the Payne-Aldrich farce all over again. Representative government will have given special privilege a tight race, but in the finish

Is That Known as Doing
"Genna."

Among the inhabitants of Assam
there are curious customs described
by a recent traveler: "The local no-
bleman who had consented to help the
stomach ache, the result, probably, of
evening found him still in pain, and he
one dose to effect a magic cure, and if it did not he considered the medicine was not worth taking a second
him, he confided to me, and the only
with full ceremonial three whole days
apart from the world were necessary,
and therefore he had to tender his resignation."

ago in Sadiya, and was much hurt at
my mildly suggesting that 'the evil
custom of shutting one's self off from contact with one's fellows is common all along this frontier, on such
occasions as a birth, a death, sickness
is called doing 'genna,' and takes place whenever the slightest ground can be found for it."

"There is a story of a certain well-
known frontier officer being refused
admittance to a house where usually
the reason, he was told that the household was doing 'genna,' as the fam-
pups."

Bachelor Could Not Save Rug and
Still Has the Rug.

A theater party waited half an hour
the other evening for one belated individual, who arrived breathless and
tailed explanations, and explanations
revealed some of the exigencies, as well the humor, of bachelor make-
shifts.

tardy found it imperative to economize space. Necessity made his
opera hat share a closet shelf with
the Tarragon vinegar and the olive
oil used at occasional evening spreads.
time the vinegar and the oil came
and deposited their contents upon his latest acquisition, the Sherry rug he had just treated himself to.

It was ruin the rug or be late to the party, so, up came the rug, on went
the water in the bathtub, and to scrubbing fell he. The rug was saved, and
the theater party enjoyed the laugh

It was during the second term in
the penitentiary that the great plan
first came into Jim Byers' head. At first it was only a thought that stole
upon him during the night, while he
tossed uneasily upon his plain bed;
then a desire; suddenly a mighty and
overwhelming passion which must be fulfilled.

When he was freed prison societies
came to him and offered him help.
But he refused and started on his
tramp eastward with the little money
fulfill his determination.

It was 150 miles up state to the old
home where his brother—the rich man—still lived. Walter had stayed
at home and prospered, and was always spoken of as a prospective mil-
prodigal, the jailbird, the broken man,
tramped eastward along the railroad
years of absence and silence.

meet his brother face to face and kill
him, kill him as calmly and remorse-
lessly as he himself had once killed
cattle in the slaughter yards, because
he had prospered while he was starving. What would come afterward he did not think or care.

along the railroad line, exulting at
each remembered landmark for the
A dusty tramp, disheveled, torn, a few
tripped from tie to tie, the knife hidden in his sleeve which was to ab-
solve his debt of hatred. In this wise
he reached the little village.

He stood still, rubbing his eyes in
wonder. This his home site? Why,
here was a factory town, with smoke belching from the tops of 20 tall chimneys.

ers homestead?

Yes, the saloonkeeper remembered
it. But he did not remember Jim in his tramp's clothes, with prison porcupine upon his face. It had been sold and pulled down these ten years or
the Byers' home, that red brick building on the hill yonder. He might get
always in need of hands in his factory.

Slowly Jim turned his face toward
his brother's house and toiled up the hill painfully. No matter, his work would soon be over. But when he
stood still, staring into the face of a little girl who sat there, shading her eyes as she gazed cityward.

"Is Mr. Byers at home?" and he felt the steel beat a tattoo against the
bare flesh of his arm.

"Father's not home yet," said the
"So you're Walter Byers' daughter, are you? Have you any brothers and sisters?"

"No, there's only me. You're not my Uncle Jim, are you?"

She looked into his face frankly
and anxiously.

"No, I know you're not. Because you're so poor and Uncle Jim's rich.
He's coming home some day to take
us by surprise. Only, you see, we're
all so anxious for him to come, because father tried so hard for years
to find him, and we know he's making
his fortune out in the west somewhere
and he'll come back again."

He had become a myth, the rich
his devoted family! Jim heard incidents of his boyhood, exploits now
greatly magnified, from his little niece's lips. And they were proud of him!

For the first time since he had left
the penitentiary he laughed, then
stopped and drew his sleeve across
his eyes. He turned away.

"Won't you wait for father? He won't be long. Who shall I tell him called to see him?"

Jim straightened himself.

"Tell him a broken man who's gone
his head and look it in the eye
ing and learned his lesson."

He turned and plunged down the
steep hill westward in the direction
of the railroad line.

A farm in Central New York,
bought a few years ago for $15 an
acre, produced two years later a crop
of peas worth more than $50 an acre.
This incident, considered in conjunc-
can be bought for even less than the
land, is used in a bulletin by Com-
cultural department to indicate the possibilities of agriculture in New York.

This publication also gives the value of crops in this state for a period of 40 years, showing that New York
is the fourth state in agricultural importance. A significant feature of the
York raised 25,000,000 bushels of potatoes, valued at $10,385,179, last year
it produced 34,850,000 bushels, valued at $26,138,000. Similarly increased
value is shown in other crops, while

What's the Use!

Isabel—I'll never have another photograph taken.

Dorothy—Why not, dear?

Isabel—O, if it looks like me I don't like it, and if it flatters me my friends
don't like it.—Stray Stories.

RARE TALENT APPEARS TONIGHT

The Ada public should accept the verdict of the two hundred and fifty people who attended "The Lady of the Decoration" last night, and should crowd the Normal Auditorium to-night. Program begins at 8:30 sharp. Admission, 25, 35 and 50 cents.

Miss Leona Steed Entertains.

Last Saturday evening at her beautiful home on Seventeenth street, Miss Leona Steed entertained about forty of her young friends with a farewell party given in honor of Miss Lucille Hale of Corpus Christi, who had been visiting her for some two weeks past. The parlors were tastily decorated with pink and white flowers and the dining room with white and red.

An apron making, as well as the popular games of the day, furnished delightful amusement for the guests. The girls furnished the aprons and the boys did the domestic art (?) in other words put the hems on. Vin-dim Curry won first prize.

Refreshments of cream and cake were served. When the parting hour came, though they regretted having to bid Miss Lucille good-bye, everybody expressed by word and manner that they had spent a most enjoyable evening.

Court House News

The shot man, Mr. Prentiss, at the jail, is reported to be improving and the indications are now that he will recover.

Mr. Renfrow went out this morning with six of the prisoners to work on public roads. He had not been gone long until he reported back that one big black coon, Homer Norris, had vamoosed. The dogs were put on track but to no avail. Officers have gone in pursuit of him.

Sheriff James K. King of Holdenville in an altercation with assistant Police Gillard, shot and killed Mr. Gillard.

We understand that the sheriff is in jail and not allowed bond.

The killing grew out of an old feud. Last night a phone message came to the Sheriff that a store had been burglarized at Vanoss, and the owner of the store thought that they had a good clue as to who did the work.

Among the distinguished visitors in our city today are: H. D. Richardson, Everett Deasons, Oscar Collins and Ed Fussell, all of Roff.

Amarillo, Tex., May 17.—Accompanied by a lurid electrical display and thunder such as is seldom seen or heard in this portion of the state, Amarillo was visited by a record breaking rain yesterday at an early hour, which flooded the streets, and sheets of water now remain upon some of the main thoroughfares. The rain lasted about half an hour and registered approximately one inch, which, added to the recent precipitations, runs the fall up to more than three inches within fifteen days. The storm last night was accompanied by heavy wind and an appreciable showing of hail. Fortunately no damage to wheat or fruit resulted.

Those who braved the inclemency of the weather last night to hear Miss Dunaway present "The Lady of the Decoration" were well paid for their venture. In the delineation of character, Miss Dunaway has few superiors, and in the impersonation of "The Lady of the Decoration" she reveals something better than a mere mastery of art on her part, a keen insight into, and a deep sympathy with the frailties of human nature.

AN OPPORTUNITY PASSED IF MISS ATTENDING

Miss Dunaway, who leads in the production of "The Lady of the Decoration" comes to Ada in other personance than that of her profession. Larger cities usually claim her talent. Why not take advantage to hear her at the popular prices of 25, 35 and 50 cents tonight. Program begins at 8:30 p. m.

THE COUNTY CENTRAL DEMOCRATIC COMMITTEE:
You are notified that the Democratic Organization of Pontotoc County is informed by Hon. Fred Branson, chairman of the State Executive Committee, that Governor Haskell will address the people of Pontotoc county at Ada, on next Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock p. m. Therefore you are requested to so advertise the fact to the people of your respective precincts and urge them to be present in Ada in honor and for the benefits of such occasion.
OTIS B. WEAVER, State Committeeman. W. H. FISHER, Chair. Co. Democratic Committee.

THE LADY OF THE DECORATION

Miss Dunaway's presentation of the "Lady of the Decoration" last night at the High School Auditorium, proved to be one of the most entertaining Lyceum attractions that ever appeared in Ada. Miss Dunaway has been urged to repeat the evening and will do so, tonight, at the demand of last night's audience. She is a genuine artist, and her reading was a treat from start to finish, and you cannot afford to miss the opportunity of hearing her. This reading was given in ten different costumes, to a musical accompaniment. Miss Vann, the accompanist, who is a graduate of National Conservatory of Music, in New York, added much to the success of the evening.

Entertainment will begin tonight promptly at 8:30 o'clock.

Return date. No one disappointed. May she come again.—Sulphur Spring News.

Among the readers at chautauqua this season was Miss Hettie Dunaway. Even after her recalls, the audience would not then release her.—New York Journal.

Her readings have a characteristic Western breeze that never fails to please. She received round after round of applause.—Boston Post.

The popular Japanese tale was exceedingly clever and interesting. She has an excellent sense of humor and an equal capacity for expressing the more tender emotions.—Boston Transcript.

INTRODUCTION

Miss Hettie J. Dunaway, the talented Arkansas Reader has been repeatedly and enthusiastically received in almost every state in the South. Why is she so popular? Because she is so different to the Elocutionist. She is so perfectly natural that you forget her and think only of the character she portrays. She enjoys her work and works to please her audience. She has an unerring judgement in deciding what the people like. Then she has the taste to choose the best that will please, while her programs always stimulate to better living. Hers is the Gospel of good cheer. Her policy to bring to the platform only the choicest, newest and best readings; her joy is in pleasing the people.

Patient Returns to Work Within Three Days After Operation.

Frankfort, May 17.—Professor Sonnenburg, an eminent surgeon, reports a remarkable operation in which he succeeded in stitching together the main artery of a mechanic's thigh after it had been practically torn in two by a splinter of steel.

OFFICERS MAKE ANOTHER HAUL

Last night about midnight, Bess Rich and one Meeks were arrested on the charge of transporting whiskey from one part of the state to another—here in Ada.

It appears that the parties above mentioned were in a tent on tenth street and the officers had been quietly watching the place for several days; so on last night Sheriff Smith and Jim Adair placed themselves in hiding near the tent to await developments. When the time was ripe for action, the officers acted, and succeeded in capturing 65 pints of whiskey and a good big supply of "belly wash," as one of the boys denominated it. Meeks put up a cash security for his appearance in court and Rich was confined in the jail.

A CORRECTION.

Referring to the leading article in this press yesterday, (Monday) being an undertaking to relate the facts regarding the contention between the city of Ada and the McKanna Power and Development Company over the control of the Byrd's Mill water site, it was stated in connection with the reference to the courts proceedings at Coalgate that it was at the instance of the McKanna Power and Development Company that the hearing was continued over until Monday, at Ada, when the court would hear new argument. Such reference appears to have been incorrect, for the city attorney, along with Messrs. Buck Wall and John Smith, stated that the hearing before the court was extended over until Monday, when new argument could be heard, by agreement of both parties concerned, the city as well as the McKanna Power and Development Co.

W. A. WINGO PASSES AWAY

After being confined to his bed for some two or three months, W. A. Wingo paid the debt we all must pay at 3:30 this morning. He is survived by a wife and seven children, five of the children living here. His daughter, Mrs. Hamilton, of Merritt, Texas, and his son, W. H. Wingo, of Tulsa, were with their father at the time of his death. The funeral will be conducted by Rev. Stubblefield at the Wingo home at ten o'clock Wednesday morning.

W. A. Wingo was born at Spartanburg, N. C., in 1814, moved to Ladonia, Texas in 1859, and resided there until eighteen months ago, when he came to Ada. From Texas he enlisted with the 9th Texas Cavalry under Col. Ross and served the full four years in the Confederate service. He has been a consistent member of the Baptist church since the age of fourteen. Surely a good man is taken from our midst.

WEST BEGINS FIRE ON BOOZE

ASKS REVOCATION TO TITLES PATENT. HITS THE EXPRESS COMPANIES

Guthrie, Okla., May 16.—The suits filed in the supreme court of the United States today by Attorney General West seek first, the cancel of the title patents of the Santa Fe to portions of its line in Indian Territory; the second to permanently enjoin the shipment of liquors into Oklahoma to holders of internal revenue licenses.

The second case, relative to shipments of liquor into Oklahoma, states that because of various Indian treaties, chiefly between the United States and components of the Five Civilized Tribes, and the enabling act, whiskey was prohibited in the Indian Territory side of the state, and charge all the inter-state railroads of Oklahoma and express companies with openly and constantly violating the laws and treaties against introduction of intoxicants.

The attorney general then lists something over a thousand internal revenue license holders in the state of Oklahoma, nearly 150 such licenses; Shawnee, 50; Sapulpa, 31; McAlester, 15; Muskogee, 34; Chickasha, 15; Coalgate, 19; Bartlesville, 19; Ardmore, 8; Lawton, only one; Bufala, 13; Enid, 8; Kiefer, Krebs and Lehigh, 8 to 19 each; Miami, 10; Tulsa, 42, and Wilburton, Wagoner and Vinita, well represented. But few small towns that do not appear with from 1 to 6 licenses. To this original list, the attorney general adds a supplemental list, giving Ardmore 18 more; Anadarko 10 more; Bartlesville 10 more; Guthrie 20 more; Holdenville and Kiefer with a healthy increase of 8 each; Lawton adds 5; Muskogee has 16 in the supplemental list; Mounds, 12. Nowata 14; Oklahoma City, 88, many of which are renewals and changes; Shawnee and Sapulpa, with 16 new ones each; Tulsa adds 27.

Of all these, the attorney general says: "And further, the state of Oklahoma complains and says that various persons in said state have made payment of the special tax required of liquor dealers under the laws of the United States, which persons together with their names and addresses of each of the 1,000 odd persons.

The attorney general then shows that the original Billups bill made the possession of such a federal license prima facie a bad intent and that the importation of intoxicants to such licensees is a public nuisance, and that the railroad and express companies by attempting shipments to such persons are under protection of the interstate commerce, assisted and aggravating a general violation of the prohibitory laws of Oklahoma.

Notice Ladies.

I will say to the ladies of Ada that I am now sewing for the public again. Thanking them for past patronage and asking for a share of the same in the future.

Mrs. A. B. Havlin,

Cause of Eczema Explained.

After years of debate medical authorities are now agreed that Eczema and other skin diseases are not seated in the blood, but are caused by myriads of microscopic animals gnawing the flesh just below the epidermis. The patient is perfectly healthy. It is only the skin that is diseased.

Hence, scientists are now agreed that you must cure the skin through the skin. The medicine must be in liquid form in order to penetrate properly. And we can say with confidence that we have the true remedy for Eczema in our store.

The instant you wash with this soothing liquid you will find the itch relieved. We positively assure you of this. Will you try a bottle (at only 25c) on our recommendation? Ask for D. D. D. Prescription. Ramsey Drug Company, West Main Street.

Bribery in Elections.

Bribery, according to an expert on the subject, first became a recognized mode of securing votes in the reign of Charles I. It was afterward improved upon by George III, who lost no opportunity of enforcing its claims as a good vote getter. "It," he wrote to his chief adviser on one occasion, "the duke of Northumberland requires some gold pills for the election it would be wrong not to satisfy him." The king was not altogether selfish in this matter of spending money for the gold pills came out of his own medicine chest, the civil list, whereas his successors drew upon the secret service cash for the corruption of the voters.

In those days the British constitution worked on the principles of Mr. Quinton Dick, a wealthy West Indian planter, who explained his manner of election thus: "At the last election I spoke to my constituents. 'Gentlemen, I said, my opponent is a very rich man with a large family. I am a very rich man, and I thank God that all I care for in the world is covered by my hat.' I put my hat on my head, and they returned me. That, sir, is the practical working of the British constitution."—London Daily News.

Smuggling Partridge Eggs.

A singular custom of smuggling by means of a dummy baby was brought to light by the city customs officials at northern station in Vienna.

Partridge eggs have for a long time been extensively stolen from preserved estates in Hungary, smuggled into Vienna and sold to poultry dealers, who hatched the eggs in incubators, brought up the birds by hand and sold them below the prices asked by more honest dealers.

A special lookout for smugglers has resulted in the arrest of two peasant women. Arriving in Vienna in the national Slavonian costume, each of them carried a baby tied, according to the invariable custom, to a cushion and so closely "packed" that only the face was visible.

The women were noticed to be a little agitated as they passed the customs, and they were followed home. It was then discovered that while one baby was a living child the other was a dummy. It consisted of a wax head, partly hidden by a shawl and a cap, while the cushion was filled with more than 600 partridge eggs.

Curiosity Squelched.

At dinner the professor of history was seated between two young ladies, who, in accordance with their training in the art of conversation, sought to draw him out upon the subject in which he was most interested. They did not meet with much success; his answers were short. "Yes," Oliver Cromwell. "No," 1492, and the like. Finally one of them in desperation ventured:

WIFE STILL CLINGS TO HOPE

Not Much Sympathy from the Court. "Treat that Prisoner the Same as any Other"

Kansas City Mo May 16—Dr Bennett Clark Hyde, charged with the murder of Col Thomas H Swope, was found guilty of murder in the first degree and his punishment assessed at life imprisonment by the jury which brought in a verdict here this morning It is likely the defense will ask a new trial and take the case to the highest court in an effort to save the physician

Scene in Courtroom
Oh Clark cried Mrs Hyde when the verdict was read by Judge Lathshaw She threw her arms about his neck and wept silently Then she patted her husband on the cheek Dr Hyde sat motionless He looked firmly at Judge Lathshaw while the verdict was being read As the words imprisonment in the State penitentiary during his natural life was pronounced he gazed steadily at the floor Don't worry dearie he said to his wife as she clasped him in her arms Mrs Hopkins and Miss Hyde sisters of the physician tried to comfort Mrs Hyde
We shall hope for the best they said We don't understand this verdict Clark is innocent I havnt lost hope declared Hyde

Within ten minutes after the verdict had been returned the doctor was on his way to his cell Mrs Hyde remained in the courtroom for some time She was extremely weak

To Ask New Trial.
The physician will be sentenced in open court by Judge Lathshaw either Thursday or Friday The law allows the defense four days in which to file a motion for a new trial, and Dr Hyde's counsel announce that a new trial will be requested

Treat that prisoner the same as any other," Judge Lathshaw said to County Marshal Joel Mayes, give him few privileges and no luxuries" Statement by Juror.

GIVES HIS REASON FOR FAVORING
GOVERNORSHIP

D. C., May 6, 1910.—Mr. S. L. Russell, Plainview, Texas: My Dear Sir
—I am in receipt of your letter in which you ask me the direct question
as to whether; in view of recent developments in the contest for the Democratic nomination for Governor
of Texas and the conflicting claims
of some of my friends concerning
my real feeling toward two of the candidates engaged in that contest;
I shall take any part, active or otherwise, in behalf of Judge Poindexter or Mr. Colquitt, and if so which of the two it will be.

"As one of my constituents, you have the right to ask me this question and you are likewise entitled to have a frank answer from me. While
I have, owing to pressing duties in
the Senate, thus far refrained from entering into that contest, I have at this time no hesitancy in answering
your question. No living man can truthfully assert that I have ever
failed to announce my position upon
any matter affecting the welfare of the people of Texas.

"It is doubtful if I shall feel called upon to take any active part in the campaign now in progress. The fact is well known that I have heretofore declared my personal friendship
for Judge Poindexter, and I would
now at all times prefer to aid his
election, but should the progress of the campaign develop such conditions as would endanger the election
of Judge Poindexter to such an extent as to render his defeat morally
give undivided support to Mr. Colquitt. Of course, my attitude toward the other candidates for the nomination it too well known to the citizens of Texas to make a statement with respect to them in the least necessary.

"Candor compels me, however, to say that while gratitude and personal considerations strongly incline me to support Poindexter, my support Judge Poindexter, Mr. Colquitt's platform in so far as it re-
the contest, more nearly coincides
with my view than does that of Judge Poindexter. I am yours very truly,

Supreme Court Affirms Judgement in Lawyer Fees Case.

Washington, May 16.—The supreme court of the United States today affirmed a judgment of the court of appeals of the District of Columbia,
requiring United States Senator R. L.
Owen, of Oklahoma, to pay William
W. Dudley and Louis T. Mitchener, $10,000 as lawyer's fees. The controversy grew out of a contract
whereby Dudley and Mitchener were
to assist Owen in a claim against
the government.

"One of the Strongest Sources of Support Will Come From Traveling Men."

Chillicothe, Mo., May 17.—The opening gun in the campaign for state-
Sunday. Judge William H.
Wallace of Kansas City, president of the Constitutional Amendment Association, made two addresses. This morning he spoke at the Presbyterian church, and in the afternoon in the Elm Street Methodist church.

Judge Wallace says he is certain
the amendment will carry, and is
surprised at the lack of opposition.

"One of the strongest sources of
support will come from the traveling
men of the state," said the judge.
"The grounds on which these drummers will vote for prohibition is that it increases business. The less spent
which the commercial men sell."

his candid opinion Kansas City would
join the dry column.

But Senate, Predominating Body, Will Re-insert Nefarious Clauses—Country Not Yet Saved

Special Washington Correspondent of
this newspaper.

Washington, May 17.—Representative government almost—but not quite
—prevails in the National house of representatives.

Although still objectionable as
regulation bill was discussed, amend-
done in the open.

The entire membership of the house, for a change, was permitted
to vote on the question of rejecting
undesirable sections. Improvement of the bill by amendment, was also allowed.

working smoothly, a few men would
have done the legislating instead of the entire membership of the house.

of gang rule, the railroad bill would have been reported from committee
under a rule prohibiting the membership of the house from voting for
or against amendment. Bad features of the bill could not have been eliminated.

The entire measure, jokers and all,
would have been forced down the
by the railroad companies, and just as submitted by "Uncle Joe's" Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce. This committee is packed with men who have been aided in coming to congress by the railroads.

The improvement of the railroad
bill in the house through a coalition
of the Democrats and Progressives
is a cause for rejoicing. But it does not mean that the people have really wrested control of the national law-making machinery from the
forms of special privilege which
dominate the Republican party thru
either the control of local politics
or making large campaign contributions.

The house is only the lower branch of congress. The railroad bill will
not become a law as passed by the house. The senate is the dominating half of congress, and it is still
controlled absolutely by the greedy corporate interests.

The senate will pass a bill containing some of the very features
stricken from the measure in the house. Both the senate and house
bills will then be sent to a conference committee composed of either three or five members of each branch
of congress.

As the majority of conferees will be "regular" Republicans, specially selected by Aldrich and Cannon, it goes without saying that much of the good work accomplished by the house Democrats and Progressives will be reversed. It was so with the tariff bill.

The finale of the railroad bill promises to be the Payne-Aldrich fiasco all over again. Representative government will have given special privilege a tight race, but in the finish

Is That Known as Doing
"Gonna."

Among the inhabitants of Assam
there are curious customs described
by a recent traveler: "The local nobleman who had consented to help the
cook in return for his food plus pay
had complained in the morning of a stomach ache, the result, probably, of
a too liberal diet at my expense. I had
dosed him with strong ginger, but
evening found him still in pain, and he refused to take more. He expected
one dose to effect a magic cure, and if it did not he considered the medicine was not worth taking a second time. An evil spirit had got hold of
him, he confided to me, and the only
sure remedy was to propitiate it by sacrificing a white fowl. To do so
with full ceremonial three whole days
apart from the world were necessary,
and therefore he had to tender his resignation.

"He came to see me a few weeks ago in Sadiya, and was much hurt at
my mildly suggesting that 'the evil
one' had been a surfeit of pork. The custom of shutting one's self off from contact with one's fellows is common all along this frontier, on such occasions as a birth, a death, sickness
or some other unusual occurrence. It is called doing 'gonna,' and takes place whenever the slightest ground can be found for it.

"There is a story of a certain well-known frontier officer being refused
admittance to a house where usually
he was an honored guest. On asking
the reason, he was told that the household was doing 'gonna,' as the family's female dog had just produced
pups."

Bachelor Could Not Save Rug and
Be in Time for the Theater—
Still Has the Rug.

A theater party waited half an hour
the other evening for one belated individual, who arrived breathless and profusely apologetic. Apologies entailed explanations, and explanations revealed some of the exigencies, as well the humor, of bachelor make-
shifts.

In this case the gentleman who was tardy found it imperative to economize space. Necessity made his opera hat share a closet shelf with
the Tarragon vinegar and the olive oil used at occasional evening spreads.
One could multiply proverbial in telling the tale, for in his haste to be on time the vinegar and the oil came
down unexpectedly with the opera hat,
and deposited their contents upon his latest acquisition, the Shervan rug
he had just treated himself to.

It was ruin the rug or be late to the party, so, up came the rug, on went
the water in the bathtub, and to scrubbing fell he. The rug was saved, and
the theater party enjoyed the laugh
they had over the tale.

It was during the second term in
the penitentiary that the great plan
first came into Jim Byers' head. At first it was only a thought that stole upon him during the night, while he
tossed uneasily upon his plain bed;
then a desire; suddenly a mighty and overwhelming passion which must be fulfilled.

When he was freed prison societies
came to him and offered him help.
But he refused and started on his
tramp eastward with the little money
that he had earned. First he must fulfill his determination.

It was 150 miles up state to the old home where his brother—the rich man—still lived. Walter had stayed
at home and prospered, and was always spoken of as a prospective millionaire, while he, the outcast, the
prodigal, the jailbird, the broken man,
tramped eastward along the railroad
line for that first reunion after 15
years of absence and silence.

meet his brother face to face and kill
him, kill him as calmly and remorselessly as he himself had once killed
cattle in the slaughter yards, because
he had prospered while he was starving. What would come afterward he did not think or care.

For five nights and days he tramped
along the railroad line, exulting at
each remembered landmark for the
A dusty tramp, disheveled, torn, a few coins dancing in his pockets as he tripped from tie to tie, the knife hidden in his sleeve which was to ab-
solve his debt of hatred. In this wise
he reached the little village.

He stood still, rubbing his eyes in wonder. This his home site? Why,
here was a factory town, with smoke belching from the tops of 20 tall chimneys.

Did anybody remember the old Byers homestead?

Yes, the saloonkeeper remembered
it. But he did not remember Jim in his tramp's clothes, with prison pal-lor upon his face. It had been sold
and pulled down these ten years or more. Walter Byers? Why, that was the Byers' home, that red brick building on the hill yonder. He might get a job there possibly. Mr. Byers was always in need of hands in his factory.

Slowly Jim turned his face toward
his brother's house and toiled up the hill painfully. No matter, his work would soon be over. But when he reached the gate of the garden he
stood still, staring into the face of a little girl who sat there, shading her eyes as she gazed cityward.

"Is Mr. Byers at home?" and he felt the steel beat a tattoo against the
bare flesh of his arm.

"Father's not home yet," said the
"So you're Walter Byers' daughter, are you? Have you any brothers and sisters?"

"No, there's only me. You're not my Uncle Jim, are you?"
She looked into his face frankly
and anxiously.

"No, I know you're not. Because you're so poor and Uncle Jim's rich.
He's coming home some day to take
us by surprise. Only, you see, we're all so anxious for him to come, because father tried so hard for years
to find him, and we know he's making
his fortune out in the west somewhere
and he'll come back again."

He had become a myth, the rich uncle who was to return some day to
his devoted family! Jim heard incidents of his boyhood, exploits now greatly magnified, from his little niece's lips. And they were proud of him!

For the first time since he had left
the penitentiary he laughed, then
stopped and drew his sleeve across
his eyes. He turned away.

"Won't you wait for father? He won't be long. Who shall I tell him called to see him?"

Jim straightened himself.
"Tell him a broken man who's gone
out to fight the world again; to lift up
his head and look it in the eye
squarely. A man who's taken his beating and learned his lesson."

He turned and plunged down the
steep hill westward in the direction
of the railroad line.

A farm in Central New York,
bought a few years ago for $15 an
acre, produced two years later a crop of peas worth more than $50 an acre.
This incident, considered in conjunction with the fact that many farms
can be bought for even less than the value of the buildings standing on the land, is used in a bulletin by Commissioner Pearson of the state agricultural department to indicate the possibilities of agriculture in New York.

This publication also gives the value of crops in this state for a period of 40 years, showing that New York
is the fourth state in agricultural importance. A significant feature of the statistics is that while in 1876 New York raised 85,000,000 bushels of potatoes, valued at $10,985,179, last year
it produced 34,850,000 bushels, valued at $26,138,000. Similarly increased value is shown in other crops, while

What's the Use!
Isabel—I'll never have another photograph taken.
Dorothy—Why not, dear?
Isabel—O, if it looks like me I don't like it, and if it flatters me my friends don't like it.—Stray Stanzas.

RARE TALENT APPEARS TONIGHT

The Ada public should accept the verdict of the two hundred and fifty people who attended "The Lady of the Decoration" last night, and should crowd the Normal Auditorium to-night. Program begins at 8:30 sharp. Admission, 25, 35 and 50 cents.

Miss Leona Steed Entertains.

Last Saturday evening at her beautiful home on Seventeenth street, Miss Leona Steed entertained about forty of her young friends with a farewell party given in honor of Miss Lucile Hale of Corpus Christi, who had been visiting her for some two weeks past. The parlors were tastefully decorated with pink and white flowers and the dining room with white and red.

An apron hemming, as well as the popular games of the day, furnished delightful amusement for the guests. The girls furnished the aprons and the boys did the domestic art. (?) in other words put the hems on. Vin-dim Curry won first prize.

Refreshments of cream and cake were served. When the parting hour came, though they regretted having to bid Miss Lucile good-bye, everybody expressed by word and manner that they had spent a most enjoyable evening.

Court House News

The shot man, Mr. Prentiss, at the jail, is reported to be improving and the indications are now that he will recover.

Mr. Renfrow went out this morning with six of the prisoners to work on public roads. He had not been gone long until he reported back that one big black coon, Homer Norris, had vanquished. The dogs were put on track but to no avail. Officers have gone in pursuit of him.

Sheriff James K. King of Holdenville in an altercation with assistant Police Gillard, shot and killed Mr. Gillard.

We understand that the sheriff is in jail and not allowed bond.

The killing grew out of an old feud. Last night a phone message came to the Sheriff that a store had been burglarized at Vannoss, and the owner of the store thought that they had a good clue as to who did the work.

Among the distinguished visitors in our city today are H. D. Richardson, Everett Deacons, Oscar Collins and Ed Fussell, all of Roff.

RECORD-BREAKING RAIN AND ELECTRICAL DISPLAY AT AMARILLO.

Amarillo, Tex., May 17.—Accompanied by a lurid electrical display and thunder such as is seldom seen or heard in this portion of the state, Amarillo was visited by a record breaking rain yesterday at an early hour, which flooded the streets, and sheets of water now remain upon some of the main thoroughfares. The rain lasted about half an hour and registered approximately one inch, which, added to the recent precipitations, runs the fall up to more than three inches within fifteen days. The storm last night was accompanied by heavy wind and an appreciable showing of hail. Fortunately no damage to wheat or fruit resulted.

Those who braved the inclemency of the weather last night to hear Miss Dunaway present "The Lady of the Decoration" were well paid for their venture. In the delineation of character, Miss Dunaway has few superiors, and in the impersonation of "The Lady of the Decoration" she reveals something better than a mere mastery of art on her part, a keen insight into, and a deep sympathy with the frailties of human nature.

Miss Dunaway, who leads in the production of "The Lady of the Decoration" comes to Ada in other persuasion than that of her profession. Larger cities usually claim her talent. Why not take advantage to hear her at the popular prices of 25, 35 and 50 cents tonight. Program begins at 8:30 p. m.

THE COUNTY CENTRAL DEMOCRATIC COMMITTEE:
You are notified that the Democratic Organization of Pontotoc County is informed by Hon. Fred Branson, chairman of the State Executive Committee, that Governor Haskell will address the people of Pontotoc county at Ada, on next Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock p. m.

Therefore you are requested to so advertise the fact to the people of your respective precincts and urge them to be present in Ada in honor and for the benefits of such occasion.

OTIS B. WEAVER,
State Committeeman.

W. H. FISHER,
Chair. Co. Democratic Committee

THE LADY OF THE DECORATION

Miss Dunaway's presentation of the "Lady of the Decoration" last night at the High School Auditorium, proved to be one of the most entertaining Lyceum attractions that ever appeared in Ada. Miss Dunaway has been urged to repeat the evening and will do so, tonight, at the demand of last night's audience. She is a genuine artist, and her reading was a treat from start to finish, and you cannot afford to miss the opportunity of hearing her. This reading was given in ten different costumes, to a musical accompaniment. Miss Vann, the accompanist, who is a graduate of National Conservatory of Music, in New York, added much to the success of the evening.

Entertainment will begin tonight promptly at 8:30 o'clock.

Return date. No one disappointed. May she come again.—Sulphur Spring News.

Among the readers at chautauqua this season was Miss Hettie Dunaway. Even after her recalls, the audience would not then release her.—New York Journal.

Her readings have a characteristic Western breeze that never fails to please. She received round after round of applause.—Boston Post.

The popular Japanese tale was exceedingly clever and interesting. She has an excellent sense of humor and an equal capacity for expressing the more tender emotions.—Boston Transcript.

INTRODUCTION

Miss Hettie J. Dunaway, the talented Arkansas Reader has been repeatedly and enthusiastically received in almost every state in the South. Why is she so popular? Because she is so different to the Elocutionist. She is so perfectly natural that you forget her and think only of the character she portrays. She enjoys her work and works to please her audience. She has an unerring judgement in deciding what the people like. Then she has the taste to choose the best that will please, while her programs always stimulate to better living. Hers is the Gospel of good cheer. Her policy to bring to the platform only the choicest, newest and best readings; her joy is in pleasing the people.

W. A. WINGO PASSES AWAY
After being confined to his bed for some two or three months, W. A. Wingo paid the debt we all must pay at 3:30 this morning. He is survived by a wife and seven children, five of the children living here. His daughter, Mrs. Hamilton, of Merritt, Texas, and his son, W. H. Wingo, of Tulsa, were with their father at the time of his death. The funeral will be conducted by Rev. Stubblefield at the Wingo home at ten o'clock Wednesday morning.

Patient Returns to Work Within Three Days After Operation.

Within three days blood was coursing through the artery in normal fashion, and the artisan was returned to his work with a fully healed

OFFICERS MAKE ANOTHER HAUL

Last night about midnight, Bess Rich and one Meeks were arrested on the charge of transporting whiskey from one part of the state to another—here in Ada.

It appears that the parties above mentioned were in a tont on tenth street and the officers had been quietly watching the place for several days; so on last night Sheriff Smith and Jim Adair placed themselves in hiding near the tent to await developments. When the time was ripe for action, the officers acted, and succeeded in capturing 65 pints of whiskey and a good big supply of "belly wash," as one of the boys denominated it. Meeks put up a cash security for his appearance in court and Rich was confined in the jail.

A CORRECTION.

Referring to the leading article in this press yesterday, (Monday) being an undertaking to relate the facts regarding the contention between the city of Ada and the McKanna Power and Development Company over the control of the Byrd's Mill water site, it was stated in connection with the reference to the courts proceedings at Coalgate that it was at the instance of the McKanna Power and Development Company that the hearing was continued over until Monday, at Ada, when the court would hear new argument. Such reference appears to have been incorrect, for the city attorney, along with Messrs. Buck Wall and John Smith, stated that the hearing before the court was extended over until Monday, when new argument could be heard, by agreement of both parties concerned, the city as well as the McKanna Power and Development Co.

W. A. WINGO PASSES AWAY

W. A. Wingo was born at Spartanburg, N. C., in 1814, moved to Ladonia, Texas in 1859, and resided there until eighteen months ago, when he came to Ada. From Texas he enlisted with the 9th Texas Cavalry under Col. Ross and served the full four years in the Confederate service. He has been a consistent member of the Baptist church since the age of fourteen. Surely a good man is taken from our midst.

Guthrie, Okla., May 16.—The suits filed in the supreme court of the United States today by Attorney General West seek first, the cancel of the title patents of the Santa Fe to portions of its line in Indian Territory; the second to permanently enjoin the shipment of liquors into Oklahoma to holders of internal revenue licenses.

The second case, relative to shipments of liquor into Oklahoma, states that because of various Indian treaties, chiefly between the United States and components of the Five Civilized Tribes, and the enabling act, whiskey was prohibited in the Indian Territory side of the state, and charge all the inter-state railroads of Oklahoma and express companies with openly and constantly violating the laws and treaties against introduction of intoxicants.

The attorney general then lists something over a thousand internal revenue license holders in the state of Oklahoma, nearly 150 such licenses; Shawnee, 50. Sapulpa, 21; McAlester, 15; Muskogee, 34; Chickasha, 15; Coalgate, 19; Bartlesville, 19; Ardmore, 8; Lawton, only one; Eufaula, 13; Enid, 8; Kiefer, Krebs and Lehigh, 8 to 19 each; Miami, 10; Tulsa, 42, and Wilburton, Wagoner and Vinitia, well represented. But few small towns that do not appear with from 1 to 6 licenses. To this original list, the attorney general adds a supplemental list, giving Ardmore 13 more; Anadarko 10 more; Bartlesville 10 more; Guthrie 20 more; Holdenville and Kiefer with a healthy increase of 3 each; Law-

Of all these, the attorney general says: "And further, the state of Oklahoma complains and says that various persons in said state have made payment of the special tax required of liquor dealers under the laws of the United States, which persons together with their names and addresses of each of the 1,000 odd persons."

The attorney general then shows that the original Billups bill made the possession of such a federal license prima facie a bad intent and that the importation of intoxicants to such licensees is a public nuisance, and that the railroad and express companies are under protection of the interstate commerce, assisted and aggravating a general violation of the prohibitory laws of Oklahoma.
